

As a former Child Daycare Provider I feel this will only hurt the self employed small Daycares who are struggling to keep the health and well being of the children in their care. However, not excluding the larger Daycare centers either.

There are not enough affordable day cares to begin with for the amount of children out there who need daycare and for the parents in search of a home atmosphere or center. The reason why so many providers work at home is to run their business as they would in taking care of their own children with of course guidelines through the State.

To impose a mandate of union regulations and fees would be cost prohibited. All daycares are all ready regulated through the State by Licensing. This would only put a strain on the provider and the additional cost would increase the cost of child care for the parents. In this economy this would be a choice that the parents and providers should not have to make.

I sincerely, believe this would not be a good decision to unionize daycares and I opposed this decision strongly.

Sincerely,

Denise Duhaime
